

Strategic Account - Strategic Enterprise Development Inc.

The Strategic Account is:

- a non-investment account utilized for personal and business transactions
- for financial and non-financial contributions in trust,
- and controlled by the Private Executive Trustee and the Member Co-trustee
- This is utilized with provisions, conditions, features, opportunities with general or specific detail;
- may be structured with various terms, conditions, rights, options or otherwise,
- can promote, create, enable, augment or amplify;
- private enterprise, technology, products and services
- and may include or offer corresponding prospectus, executive summaries & capital structure;
- and can also have pass through characteristics of securities, ownership, voting, control;
- investment, development, leasing, conditional sales or acquisition contracts,
- may also include co-development, joint ventures, business combinations,
- can include employment, working share-owner, direct and indirect business options,
- VIP promotion, other tangible and intangible benefits, opportunities and agreements.
- may utilize various jurisdictions, entities or otherwise;
- can be used for initial organization, IPO, invest, custom build and buying group associations
- is discretionary in fixed or variable for temporary, intermediate and long term
- useful for financial and non-financial resource allocation options,
- and may have various rates of return, dividends, compensation, rights and conditions,
- options allocated to a general or specific entity, technology, product, service or program
- options for business combination, joint or co-development, integrated & independent projects
- options to transfer to or conversion to an entity, securities, initial organization, IPO & new entity

The Strategic Account simplifies resource allocation decision and enables a greater range of options in addition to more time available to redirect those resources to those companies, entities or otherwise promoted by the Capital Vault Incorporated CVIx Advanced Projects, also know as Strategic Enterprise Development Inc., in accordance with those values, mission, vision and corresponding documentation and mutual agreement.

- The Strategic Account -

Simpler, faster, easier, with more general or focused dynamic options and opportunities